STATE PRESS ASSOCIATION.

After a week's rest we return, not with an inclination to work, but rather with a desire to go back to mingle with friends with whom we come in contact only once a year, and with whom we always enjoy the relaxation of a few days away from care.

The State Press Association held its twenty-fifth annual meeting at Harris' Lithia Springs, and so delighted were the members with this beautiful place and health-giving resort, that they decided to return there next year.

Nature and energy have made Harris' an ideal place for a convention or an association meeting. The hotel is commodious and clean; the management is under the care of Mr. R. L. For, who sees to it that guests are shown every attention, and their pleasures are looked after so that not a minute is left for home-sickness; the table is as good as any of the best hotels in the country and the service is excellent. But after all, people go to this resort for health, and it is here to be found. Under our personal observation we saw a lady who, when she arrived at the hotel, was unable to walk a step, she had to be carried about in the arms of her devoted son. The day before we left for home, it was our pleasure to meet this lady walking up a hill from the spring and complaining of hunger. are several springs, Lithia, sulphur, the poor creatures.
